

Kathy Peel, Lloyd's Barbeque Company Family Manager

Kathy Peel, often referred to as “America’s Family Manager,” is an acclaimed author, founder and CEO of Family Manager Coaching and resource for millions of women across the world.

Peel recently teamed up with Lloyd's Barbeque Company to develop a time-saving picnic toolkit, focusing on fun for the whole family and offering advice for busy parents.

Her Family Manager Coaching company provides training, and helpful resources and services for busy families through a national network of Certified Family Manager Coaches trained at Family Manager University online campus.

Peel uses her upbeat and entertaining style to deliver reality-based solutions for creating a smooth-running home and living a more satisfying life. She is an engaging, but relaxed “everywoman” who makes it clear that you can have fun and take charge of your life and your home at the same time. Her accessible, no-nonsense strategies are a road map to a balanced life.

Peel just finished writing her 20th book, The Busy Mom's Guide to a Happy, Organized Home, which will be released this summer.

A graduate of Southern Methodist University, she and her husband Bill have three grown boys.
